

PREPARATION FOR U3A CITY WALK – AUGUST 2022

A beautiful winter's day in July gave the opportunity to undertake a 'rekki' for a planned City Walk with U3A in August. Beginning at Parliament Metro Station, iconic buildings on Parliament Hill and East Melbourne were viewed. Then an excursion into the Fitzroy Gardens, and across Wellington Parade to explore the Jolimont grid, and the original location of Governor La Trobe's Cottage.

PARLIAMENT HILL

Spring Street - Parliament House opened 1856

Windsor Hotel 1884

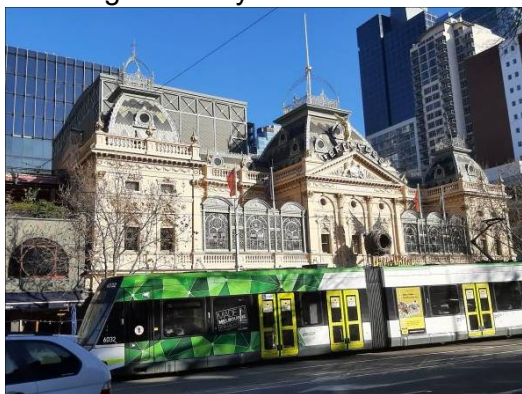

Melbourne's first Office tower
ICI building 19 storeys 1958

Albert St. Synagogue 1877

Albert St. Baptist Church 1863
now commercial offices

Spring Street - Princess theatre 1854, rebuilt 1886
Home of Opera Australia prior to Southbank Arts Precinct

St Peters, Anglo-Catholic parish church
Eastern Hill 1847

St Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral, consecrated 1897 – spires not completed until 1939

Spring Street - Old Treasury building constructed 1858-1862
With and without tram

'Taken not Given' statue 2018
commemorating Vic Parliament
apology for Forced Adoption practices

Tasma Terrace
HQ National Trust Vic.

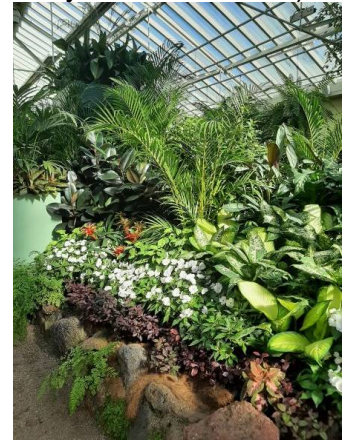

Treasury Gardens - Victorian
Emergency Services memorial completed April 2022.

FITZROY GARDENS

Many childhood memories of visiting these gardens, especially the model village and fairy tree.
When we walk in August the daffodil drifts should be in full bloom (like Hyde Park, London)

Dolphin statue and ponds

Inside the Conservatory

'Captain Cook's Cottage' – not really!
Brought out from England as an example of typical house which Cook may have lived in.

Sculptor Ola Cohn – Fairy tree

English model village

EAST MELBOURNE

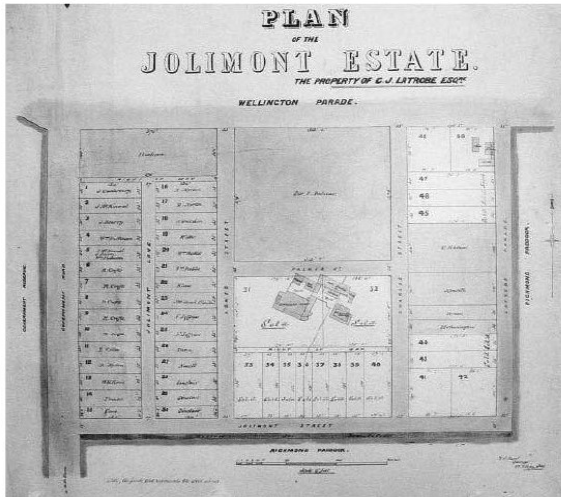

Former Cairns Memorial Presbyterian Church
Gutted by fire in the 1980s – now apartments

Hotham St, terrace. No.114 on the right, my first place of work after graduation in 1968.
K & J Reid - Architects

JOLIMONT

Charles La Trobe was 1st Superintendent of Port Phillip Colony 1839-1851, and 1st Lieutenant – Governor of Victoria 1851-1854. La Trobe purchased land in 1839, on the fringe of the city which he named Jolimont, and erected his home which he had transported in sections from London. Relocated from Jolimont in the 1960s, it is now restored and preserved as La Trobe's Cottage, in the Domain. CBD La Trobe St. and La Trobe University, are just 2 locations named in his honour.

Plan of subdivision 1868, showing site of cottage Painting by G A Gilbert – View of Jolimont 1841

Reconstructed La Trobe cottage in Melbourne's Domain

Sophie Lane
No indication of the original site of La Trobe's cottage
(Sophie was La Trobe's wife; Agnes their daughter)

Nearby – the iconic MCG